For the Love of Laminates

{CREATIVE INSPIRATIONS free FROM HOBBY LOBBY®}

Hood Over Heels

She's never met a puddle she didn't love, so make her a little more splash proof with some trendy laminate rain gear. We sewed this poncho from Simplicity 2301.

Note: Your stitches will make small holes in the laminate, which can let in water and damage the fabric. To help prevent this, apply a seam sealant.

Met Your Mat

When it comes to living with your bundle of joy, easy cleanup is essential. Here's one way to pull it off: a spill-zone splash mat. Just choose the perfect laminate fabric, cut it to the size and shape you want, and hem the edges. The finished piece will wipe clean after mealtimes and roll up for easy storage in between.

Spill Do

Don't let a mess be your travel buddy! Stitch a portable placemat for when your kiddo's on the go. Just follow Simplicity 5530, and when you're done, you'll make a clean sweep wherever you and your baby bear roam—think Grandma's house, the babysitter's or even your favorite fast-food joint.

Walk This Way

Is your toddler's chariot an all-out mess magnet? Our laminate fabrics can make those messes easier to manage. They're great for crafting easy-to-clean stroller accessories like cushions, caddies and cup holders. Just wipe them off with a damp cloth after every outing, and you're ready to roll another day.

Ready, Set, Art

Every little art lover needs an easy way to tote the tools of the trade—think pencil pouches to paper cases. For example, this little crayon caddy (sewn without a pattern) can roll up and get tucked into a backpack or a diaper bag. And since it's made from laminate fabric, it's still as clean as the day we stitched it.

Seat Shine

For things like kitchen chairs and dressing room benches, you can't go wrong with a textile that's water resistant and a dream to clean. And don't fret about frump factor—when you hit a high-traffic soft spot with our laminate fabrics, you're mixing practicality with utterly on-trend design.

Makeup Test

Traditional fabrics can turn grimy in a hurry, especially when they're constantly in use. So for busy pieces like travel bags and makeup cases, try using laminates. They come in a huge array of colors and patterns—and they can handle a ton of everyday wear and tear. Bag and tissueholder: Simplicity 9949.
