COUNTRY SMILE

.....

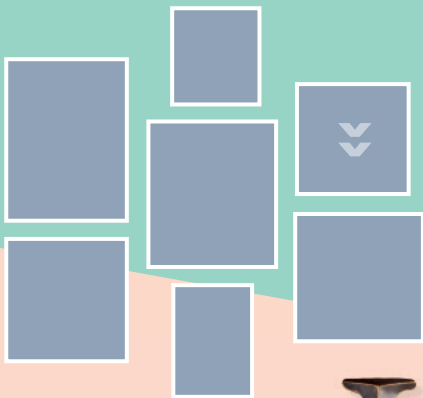

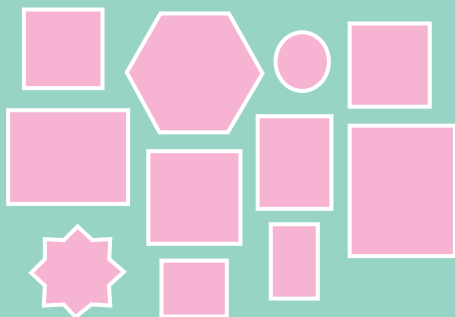

This wall is a little bit country, and that's what makes it so chic. Steer clear of spurs and cactus for a look like this. Instead, set your sights on subtle nod-to-nature pieces—wildlife, feathers and unpainted wood are just the ticket.

MOD MIX (FROM COVER)

Try mingling your favorite modern pieces with touches of color and quirk. It'll make for a gallery wall that's living on the edge—while radiating warmth that whispers "This is home."

CLASSIC CASE

Want to give meaning to a nondescript space? Try pretty typography—a mix of monograms and pretty quotes is lovely—and a classic (not dated) color scheme. If your décor is traditional, muted golds are ideal.

READY TO GET your wall rolling?

HERE ARE SOME QUICK TIPS TO GET YOU ON YOUR WAY.

- ♥ Try sketching your arrangement before hanging anything up. It could save you hours of arranging and rearranging.
- ♥ Choose a hero piece to build your design (and your theme) around. That will usually be the biggest, most prominent piece in your gallery.
- ♥ Incorporate art of various sizes—and feel free to mix framed prints with sculptural wall décor. The center of your gallery wall should be at eye level. That's so your pieces will live in (and not above) your space.
- ♥ Choose pieces that mean something to you. If it doesn't make your heart flutter-flutter, you won't want to live with it long.
- ♥ Let your wall tell a story. When you've nailed down what you want to say, get the message across with a mix of paintings, prints, photos and more.
