HOME SWEET DIY

Boutique-style décor at the touch of a hot glue gun? You bet. Just adhere ready-made embellishments to everyday items, and say hello to easy-breezy home décor. We tried them on wooden rounds, plaques and frames for this gallery wall—and the finished look was nothing short of a DIY dream come true.

TABLE TURNER

A thrifted side table goes vintage when you add painted-to-match metal accents—we covered the flower and table with chalky finish paint and secured the flower with E6000®.

READY, SET, GROW

Here's an easy way to personalize floral arrangements or keep track of pretty potted kitchen herbs: balsawood plant stakes with in-full-bloom metal embellishments! The messages are handwritten on scrapbook paper and découpaged to the wood, and the stakes are dowel rods.

ALL FUN AND NAMES ^

Set the table with these sweet and stripey placecards, and you'll score serious lunch-party style points. Base: stained and painted candlesticks, topped with metal flowers. Placecard: corrugated cardboard and kraft paper. Adhere flowers with heavy-duty craft glue, and bend a few petals upward to hold cards in place.

THAT'S A WRAP >>

Minimalist giftwrap like this doesn't skimp on presentation—start with a plain paper-mâché box, wrap it with layers of ribbon, and top it with a gorgeous ready-to-embellish fabric flower. You could glue the flowers straight onto the ribbon, or attach alligator clips to the backs to make them reusable.
