THE BOW KNOWS

This bigger-'n'-better bow mixes patterns for a bold and playful vibe. Take two ribbons of different widths, loop as desired and glue in the center. To top it? Adhere our ready-made fabric flowers and a jewel.

« LAYER PLAYER Try layering your materials for a trendy 3D piece. Stack the flower (bling included) onto a chiffon rosette. Then add a fabric rosette to a headband using the pre-attached alligator clip.

» SEEING SPOTS Our pretty-in-polka floppy bow is simple, sweet and just a little sparkly... and it features our double-sided ribbon for added dimension. To make it, form two bows, layer as pictured and tie a separate length around the middle.

BOWS IN BLOOM

Make this simple bloom headband for your little sprout (or for yourself... we won't tell). Stitch or glue a fabric flower to the coordinating headband of your choice, and enjoy the easiest accessory you'll ever make. Tip: The stretchy headbands areouch-free and easy for little ones to put on.

Try these simple tricks,
and watch your bow
designs blossom:

1. Mix and match fun ribbons with our pre-made rosettes and flowers.
2. Back bows with felt for easy application to hairpieces. For headbands, glue an additional felt piece to the underside of headband, and glue felt pieces together.
3. Glue a clip-equipped rosette—it's great as is and can double as a quick headband embellishment.

BLACK & WHITE BEAUTIES

Like peanut butter and jelly and Mac and cheese, black and white just makes sense. And this classic combo isn't going anywhere. Pick from our ready-to-go flower accessories and headbands, add a personal touch or two, and you're set. Tip: For looks like these, use a stretchy headband in an eye-popping color, or go the traditional route with a plain black one.

HIP CLIPS Sometimes, simple says it best. These classic-bow hair clips add just a touch of color to any hairdo. To make them, wrap your ribbon twice around three fingers. Stitch in the middle to cinch the ribbon, and wrap thread around center of bow to secure. Separate ribbon loops, and then glue bow to clips! And don't forget the bling, if that's your thing.

1. THE BOW MUST GO ON

Good things come in threes, right? That's why we crafted this ready-for-stardom headband. It features two swirled fabric rosettes and one fabric flower, which we glued to the elastic headband.

2. ZIPPER ME THIS

Don't let this great idea zip past ya. It's as easy as looping a zipper into a flower shape, cutting off the zipper pull, and gluing it onto the flower's center.

3. QUEEN OF CHIC

We've stationed different fabrics and styles (the more the merrier!) on top of this wild zebra headband—the pink satin flower and black rosette come ready-made. For the small white flower, we wrapped pleated grosgrain ribbon in a spiral and glued. And the rhinestone embellishment? It's the crowning jewel...literally.
