

Our grapevine wreaths make

ULTRA WOODSY DÉCOR

easier than 1, 2, 3!

Pick up a couple (and the trimmings, too!), and you'll be ready for the great outdoors in no time.

TAKE A BITE

We paired on-the-branch apples with mini rosebuds, lavender and assorted greenery for a wreath that's good enough to eat. Insert all stems into your grapevine wreath, beginning with your biggest items and securing with hot glue as you work. The trick to our luscious, in-full-bloom look? Fill and refill all empty spaces with flora of your choosing.

«DON'T FORGET TO MOSS

This beautiful woodland wonder is a cinch to create! Start with one of our natural oval wreaths and randomly nestle bits of reindeer moss in and around the vines, securing with hot glue. For a punch of color, add whimsical flocked balls and berries.

TWEET-WORTHY » TOUCH

For a nature-inspired focal point, we tucked small speckled eggs (they come in a pack of 6) into one of our pre-made vine nests. Or if you want a look that's all your own, pick up some of our unfinished birch wood eggs—you can paint them to match your style!

ON THE » SUNNY SIDE

Fill your sunny day wreath with cheery blossoms, daisies and tiny white sprigs— it's easy wall décor or a sweet way to greet guests.

« JUST SAY IT

Need a little something extra? Add a message to your spring or summer greeter! We painted lowercase chipboard letters in a happy hue of pink and then applied glitter with découpage medium. Then we secured letters to wreath with hot glue.

NATURE CALLS

Au naturel wedding décor doesn't have to be ho hum! Try incorporating earthy greens and crisp whites for a simple yet elegant table setting. The hero of this set-up? A breathtaking chandelier, bedecked with dozens of white blooms and sublime hanging vines. For the chandelier how-to, scroll to page 7.

FRONT AND CENTER

No need for a traditional centerpiece when you've got greens and blossoms like these. We used the same elements as the chandelier to create table décor that gives a natural nod to a table runner. Pair faux plants with votives and glass goblets, and your dreamy dinner is served!

» TWINKLE, TWINKLE

These made-for-the-garden lights are perfect for outdoor décor—the brown strands blend in with wreaths or branches, and the fully enclosed bulbs are nearly impossible to break! And our favorite part? These twinkles give your garden a fairytale glow.

« GIVE A RING

No need to call the experts on this one. These classic 3" mini wreaths double as rustic napkin rings! Details like this give your big day (or any day) a dash of down home charm. When working with woody elements, incorporate crisp whites and earthy greens to keep things clean and elegant.

MOVED TO » TIERS

With the help of a few flowers and some wire ribbon, we transformed two grapevine wreaths into an Eden-like two-tier chandelier.

Hanging and attaching: Using floral wire to secure, wrap separate strands of wire ribbon around each wreath in three places.

Then bring strands into the middle to form a three-sided wire ribbon tube for hanging. Join tubes to make chandelier tiers, as shown. The fun part: Tuck flowers, greens and twinkle lights into wreath. Secure with hot glue.
