

get in gear!

From playful gears to bold stripes to techno-inspired blocks, these kid-friendly papers are just the thing for a boy-meets-world space.

box boy ^

There's an art to putting together the perfect scrapbook page. So this time, skip the album and let your wall-worthy handiwork go on permanent display! We geared up this eye-popping scrapbook page with industrial-style papers, self-adhesive chipboard letters, and cute screw-shaped brads. Then, we framed it in a handy shadowbox for maximum impact. Tip: Create the 3-D look shown by applying hand-cut paper gears with foam adhesive dots.

get the picture? »

Turn a plain wooden frame into a high-tech keepsake with hardly any effort! This bold and colorful, tiled design is actually part of our vibrant scrapbook paper collection.

To get the look, paint the frame with acrylic paint, and apply the printed paper. Finally, add a trio of gear-shaped accents cut from coordinating paper and top them off with screw-shaped brads.

across the board... We got the memo, and it said, “No more boring bulletin boards!” That’s why this zippy, framed message center is anything but boring! It began as an unadorned chalkboard available in the Craft Dept. We applied blue acrylic paint and a trio of colorful papers, all perfectly coordinated to match our boyish space. Squares of rolled cork and dry erase film (both self-adhesive also available in the Craft Dept.) complete this oh-so-organized design.

off the hook!... This colorful coat rack got so much more than just a coat of fresh paint! After we applied the vibrant blue paint, we added bold stripes with scrapbook paper—but we couldn’t stop there! We personalized our hook-happy piece with bold wooden letters. They were painted with red acrylic paint and accented with more paper gears and imaginative screw-shaped brads. And since the space along the top of the rack had been purposely made to hold wooden letters, his name will look awesome on the top of the finished piece.

bright ideas ^

From tiny plug-ins to table-ready, custom lighting is quick and easy with our kid-friendly papers. Re-cover an existing shade in a hip new print, or start from scratch with a self-adhesive shade or nightlight kit available in the Sewing Notions Dept.—that's how we created the sleek and simple designs above. Little boys don't like fuss, so we kept the designs simple with singular patterns, zig-zag ribbon for color, and screw-shaped brads for a hint of boyish charm.

clip it, show it! »

It's hard to believe this oversized clip began as bare wood (available in the Craft Dept.). We dressed it up with blue acrylic paint and our bold techno-style paper. Make one for your favorite kiddo, and keep it personal with a simple chipboard letter—the monogram shown features red acrylic paint and more screw-shaped brads.

©2010 Hobby Lobby® - The information in these instructions is presented in good faith, but no warranty is given, nor results guaranteed, nor is freedom from any patents to be inferred. Since we have no control over physical conditions surrounding the application of information herein contained, Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc. disclaims any liability for untoward results. Follow manufacturer's instructions in using paints and other materials, keeping them out of reach of children, since some may be toxic, or otherwise cause injury. Photography by Sanford Mauldin.