tags & cards

Use acetate to show your true creative style! These "clearly" fun tags and cards are merely paper crafts sandwiched between acetate for a whimsical look. Round party favor tins become instant funky display stands by punching a hole through the plastic lid and putting flexible wire into each hole. Form the top into a spiral to hold your creations.

accent lamp

Design a decorative lamp by simply wrapping a shade with scrapbook paper that's been embellished with brads, dangling beads and handmade baubles. The funky baubles are simply punched circles of acetate that have slightly smaller circles of cardstock adhered to them and are hung by clear thread with coordinating beads.

Layer, layer, layer! Tags can dress up and say it all, just like this fun memento tag that is actually two tags in one. One is a circle-punched cardstock and patterned paper, and the second is bold alphabet stickers that help label the suitcase.

candle cover

The fastest way to bring style and color to an everyday candle is to give it a wrap. Simply cut scrapbook paper to size and wrap around candle securing the paper with double-sided adhesive on the back side. The brads are then pushed into the candle and offer a punch of color for minimal effort.
