Buttons, Be Boho!

For this chic Bohemian vibe, choose an Earth-color palette. Mix in jewel tones for pop, and add a little natural texture using buttons made from wood or shells.

A. Here's a quickie project: String earthy buttons and rustic wooden beads on cording (think leather or waxed linen) and you've got a boho-hip garland for a lampshade, a curtain rod or any needs-a-little-something-extra home accent.

B. Who said you have to leave it how you found it? Nab a readymade pretty from the Home Accents Department, and make it one of a kind with some glue and a handful of happy buttons. Now this little knickknack is ready to fly.

C. Connect assorted buttons with jump rings to make hang-'em-on-anything chains. You can mix in beads, charms and colorful leather cording for interest. We know what you're thinking: candleholders, keychains and quirky chandeliers!

D. We love the embroidered design on this sweet boho bag, but it's the buttons that really make it bloom. We sewed them on, starting at the center of the flower and working out.

Charmed, I'm sure!

Connect a hodgepodge of buttons, beads and charms with jump rings to make this jingly, jangly, gypsy-style necklace. Jewelry components (including the basic linked chain) are available in the Jewelry Department.

Ring Me

This fancy bezel ring base was begging for some buttons. We used a variety—the one on bottom is a big purple flower button—and we layered in a pretty brass filigree for interest. Tip: Use a permanent craft adhesive like E-6000® for this project.

Wrap It Up Wanna rock some Roman-style wristwear? Try braided leather cording and a handful of buttons. Use embroidery floss to wrap the cording together before hot-gluing the buttons into place.

Buttons = Big Smile!

The bright colors, the silly shapes, and the perfectly junky vibe—they're enough to make anybody smile. Wanna try it? Insert instant joy into your favorite spaces by adding our quirkiest, happiest, all-out-adorablest buttons to everyday décor.

Better Letter

We wrapped a painter's canvas with happy green burlap (just staple it to the back) to get this masterpiece off on the right foot. Then we glued on a hand-painted, button-embellished wooden letter. The "J" stands for joy!

Mirror, Mirror

Freshen up that has-been décor with stacks of buttons. Just stock up, stack up, and get going with the adhesive of your choice.

All Lit Up

How do you turn up the fun factor on your stateliest knickknacks? Here's a hint: We transformed glass candlesticks by wrapping the rims with velvet ribbon—and dotting the ribbon with stacks of buttons. Makes you smile, right?
