

on the fly...
This adorable feel-good welcome sign turns into a functional house address sign complete with name with just a quick flip of the plaques. The sign features pre-cut craft wood plaques painted in bright, colorful acrylics, embellished with wooden letters and numbers and then coated with a weatherproof sealer. To make a base to hang our plaques from, we used sturdy square-shaped dowel rods (painted to match) that form an "L" shape and secured base with screws. Link the plaques to each other and to the base using S-hooks and eye hooks.

cats and dogs... What's your animal instinct? Make it known with this sweet, totally reversible sign! Made from one piece of pre-cut wood, one side (cat lovers) got a fresh coat of acrylic paint, while the other side (dog lovers) received a wood stain. Both sides benefited from quick, easy-to-draw shapes and lettering. No good at freehand? Use stencils instead!

on the ball...
Take pride in your athlete and in your handiwork! This simple sign was made from a bare wood plaque and a pre-cut stake (available in the Craft Department). It got its game face from bold wood letters, acrylic paint and metallic paint as an outline. We secured plaque to stake with a pair of ordinary screws. Easy and fun!

it's a girl... or boy!
 What's the best thing about this baby shower sign? It's ready for surprises! Turn to one side for a little girl and just flip to the other side when it's a boy.

open season... Hanging around or just stuck in the ground, these pieces are a beautiful sign of the times. Made using bare wood products, each plaque has a seasonal spin—from polka-dot letters (upper left) to the subtly beautiful wood-burned designs (upper right). Faux snow, a Christmas time piece and embellished plaques make the perfect parking spot for Santa's sleigh.

house proud... What's the best way to stake your claim? A one-of-a-kind house sign! Use acrylic paint to freehand your last name or for a more formal approach, try an ornate stencil and wooden numerals (see right). Or use pre-cut wooden shapes and a quirky-painted gnome to have a little fun when welcoming your guests.

it's a party!... These precious pachyderms were made with the help of a ready-to-embellish kit. Each elephant got a polka-dot paint job before it was glued to a hand-lettered plaque. Then, we used screws to secure each plaque to one side of a square-shaped dowel rod, aligning the two plaques perfectly.
