Rouge it Up

Our deco-fabulous
rosette pillow covers have the masses blushing.

They're chic, they're detailed, and they're oh-so-easy! Slip these babies over a pillow of the same size, and voilà! You've got the perfect focal point for a couch or a striking pop of color in a featureless room. And it's as easy as slipping on a jacket—a blush-prompting, head-turning jacket, that is.

3 Ways to Fluff & Stuff

There's more than one way to stuff a pillow:

1. Fiberfill stuffing
2. Pillow forms
3. Outdated pillows

Room with a View You can capture that coastal vibe by playing around with some themed accents—we created this nearly nautical living space by dressing up old pillows with fresh, sea-worthy covers.

Love Jute? We do too! We used this sewed-on jute webbing, found near the upholstery materials, to transform this pillow from plain to plaid.

Ahoy, Matey A good pillow is like the centerpiece of a table: it's a sure-to-be-noticed way to flaunt your style. To create this eye-catching anchor piece, we sewed round shell buttons to a plain cover.

Sleek, Chic, & Magnifique! Everyone needs a little black chair (it's just as flattering as your little black dress), but you've gotta deck it out—for our chair, these pillow covers did just the trick. Tip: We added the tufts on the front pillow by placing sparkly buttons on the front and sewing through to corresponding buttons on the back.

All Squared Away

Pillows can be more than just fluff, you know. We created this one-of-a-kind headboard using coordinating pillow covers and 12x12 squares of pre-cut matboard. We simply wrapped and glued the individual covers around each board (with batting in between), and then adhered them to plywood.

Tip: For a tufted look like ours, stitch on fabric-covered buttons using our button-making kits.

Room to Bloom

We're bloomin' crazy for this ready-made floral accent cover, and we're seeing stars from the other knockout-pink designs. They're stackable, they're craftable, and with our colossal color selection, they're swappable, too! Embellish them yourself or leave them plain.

Tip: Use one 3-D accent pillow to help break up a mass of color.

Take a Chill Pill-ow

Nothing says, "loungue and be lovely," like a few inviting pillows (especially when they sport these calming colors). We added some personal touches to our handy covers by attaching silk rosettes with fabric glue and making a strap from our Brisbane houndstooth material. With the help of these trimmings, you're ready to catch some zzz's with cushiony class.
