« little boy blue

It's a man's world, but that doesn't mean it's boring. This room packs a masculine punch with a bold mix of patterns (Yep, polka dots!) and an absolutely fearless color palette. Tip: Keep things grounded with plenty of chocolate brown and charcoal grey.

⌘ behind the curtain

Since our fabric collections are made to mix and match, we had no problem pairing a polka-dot print and a rich chocolate suede. (Tab Top Curtains: McCall's Pattern #3219)

» square off

Don't shy away from busy prints in a masculine space. Just anchor them with one or two well-chosen solids. (Color Block Pillow: Simplicity Pattern #4108)

go girl For a modern take on a feminine space, dodge cotton candy pink and go for bright colors, sophisticated patterns and a sprinkling of playful accent pieces. The result will be fun and girly...but pleasantly un-precious.

lamp vamp

Don't be afraid to use your girl powers on an off-the-shelf accent. This lamp came in a basic silver, but we painted it to match the duvet. Then we added hand-covered buttons to the flowers that came on the shade.

window whimsy

Subtle prints—like our lime green damask—can function as solids, and that's a big help when it comes to tying together a pattern-packed space. They're the perfect go-between when mixing bold color and contrasting patterns.

» ruffled up Keep ruffles on trend (and un-fussy) by keeping to a solid color. That's an easy task with this fabulous pre-ruffled polyester, sold by the yard. Just cut and stitch to fit a basic 14" pillow form.

« pillow talk Go playful with pillows, but lower the fuss factor with subtler prints. You don't want your handiwork to drown in a sea of boldly-patterned bed linens. (One Ruffle Pillow: Simplicity Pattern #2160; Bolster Pillow: Simplicity Pattern #9873, embellished with ribbon and modified to fit our 6 x 20" pillow form)

We needed up to the minute flower power for our duvet—a larger than life print that would become the basis for the room's bold color palette.

(Duvet Cover: McCall's Pattern #2017)

» all grown up Appliqués are a groovy way to tie your carefully chosen patterns into handmade throw pillows. Cut them from fabric scraps, back them with fusible web, and iron them on according to the manufacturer's instructions. Tip: Need a good piped pillow pattern? Try Simplicity #4108.

have a seat This trash to treasure piece is a patchwork of trendy coordinating fabrics—and the “coordinating” part is key. Our fabrics are designed to work together, so don’t be afraid to mix and match dots, stripes and paisleys.

oh, man And that doesn't mean having to ditch playful fabrics. Bring out the brawn with textures and leathers, and accessories like lamps and clocks.

pick a pillow

When it comes to soft stuff, let color be your common denominator. We mimicked the shades in the paisley duvet with funky stripes and stately damask, and we anchored it all with deep brown microsuede and manly faux leather. (Rectangle Pillow: Simplicity Pattern #4108)
