A Touch of Twinkle

This dreamy gown is truly a hidden gem! Perfectly blending beauty and function, we used sparkling rhinestone embellishments to pull up billowy layers of the skirt creating this elegant pouf effect. The button-sized jewels were actually clipped from bridal hairpins (available in the Wedding Dept.), so it's an easy way to add custom sparkle at minimal cost.

Fairytale Vintage

Luxurious satin, glittering accents, and layers of posh poufs and gathers—they all add up to the wedding gown of your dreams. This floaty fairytale confection has everything a starry-eyed bride could desire. It's sewn using McCall's pattern #5321, and it features a stunning bodice of embroidered satin and luxurious bridal satin for the skirting and petite train. Pair this beautiful gown with traditional accessories for a classic look, or add a few quirky touches (like our vintage pillbox hat and long black gloves) for a fresh take on romantic style.

Victorian Romance

Romantic and refined, this beautiful lace gown was inspired by Victorian-Era fashion. Though the dress is cut to flatter a modern bride, its rich lace overlay and wide ribbon sash evoke the elegance of a by gone era. This gown (sewn using McCall's pattern #5807) also features luxurious bridal satin with fanciful beaded rose trim.

We added an oversized peony to the ribbon sash and bow for a touch of timeless elegance.

Sweet and Sassy

This quirky bride's ensemble is fresh and one of a kind, from her cute and kooky lace-ups, to her funky bridal dress. We used McCall's pattern #5850 and traditional bridal satin to create this unconventional take on the classic wedding gown. It's perfect to take the more offbeat bride from ceremony to reception, to the dance floor! Take it over the top with crocheted knee socks and keep it sophisticated with a string of traditional white pearls.
